Louis Foltzer Appointed to NACo Information Technology Standing Committee

WOODBINE, Ga. – August 26, 2022 – Chief Information Officer (CIO) Louis Foltzer has been appointed to the National Association of Counties (NACo) Information Technology Standing Committee. NACo’s 31 committees, caucuses, task forces, and advisory boards help to inform national policy makers and solve problems impacting counties, boroughs, and parishes.

The Information Technology Standing Committee helps shape and drive NACo’s programs and services, both internally for the association and externally for county governments. This committee advises on information technology issues and provides oversight on NACo information technology projects.

“I am thrilled to have this opportunity to share knowledge by participating in this committee,” said CIO Louis Foltzer. “I look forward to gaining and sharing information that cannot only benefit Camden County Board of Commissioners, but also county governments across the United States as well as NACo”

Louis Foltzer began working for Camden County in Information Technology (IT) in February 2008 and currently serves as CIO, leading IT programs and policies for the Camden County Board of Commissioners.

About NACo: The National Association of Counties (NACo) strengthens America’s counties, including nearly 40,000 county elected officials and 3.6 million county employees. Founded in 1935, NACo unites county officials to advocate for county government priorities in federal policymaking; promote exemplary county policies and practices; nurture leadership skills and expand knowledge networks; optimize county and taxpayer resources and cost savings; and enrich the public’s understanding of county government.
