Jeremy Wright named Camden County Government's Employee of the Quarter

Woodbine, Ga. (July 11, 2012) – On Tuesday, July 10, 2012 at the regular scheduled Board of County Commissioner's meeting, Jeremy Wright was recognized as the Employee of the Quarter for the 4th quarter of Fiscal Year 2012 for Camden County Government. Jeremy has been a dedicated employee of Camden County Fire Rescue (CCFR) since February 2001. His commitment has played an important role in the growth and success of this organization. His overall training and dedication as a Firefighter/Paramedic has greatly benefited Camden County as well as the State of Georgia during the last 11 years.

Jeremy was promoted to a Captain position in 2009 and uses his knowledge and acquired skills as a Firefighter/Paramedic to be a great leader and positive role model in his department. He has a 'can do' attitude and keeps everyone around him upbeat, as well as puts forth confidence and instills encouragement in his co-workers.

He regularly spends time off duty helping others by teaching Paramedic and Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) school, Firefighting and Extrication operations, as well as CPR and First Aid classes to help his current and future colleagues succeed. Jeremy also serves as an ambassador for his department on the Camden County Retirement Committee and is eager to learn about more efficient and cost effective operations for his department and the County.

In addition to his responsibilities as a County employee, Jeremy is very engaged with our local community by volunteering his time and concurrently sharing the enjoyment of his personal interest of fishing in the annual Waverly Woods Make-A-Difference Fishing Tournament charity for special needs children in our community, as well as participating in, or raising funds for, other philanthropic efforts.

The Board of County Commissioners expresses much gratitude for Jeremy's efforts and commitment. On behalf of Camden County's Employee Recognition Committee, we'd like to congratulate Jeremy on his efforts and for working with a true sense of team spirit, always willing to help fellow workers and the public, and contributing to the effectiveness and efficiency of the County. Congratulations Jeremy Wright!
