J.D. Strickland Named Camden County Government's Employee of the Quarter

Woodbine, GA – October 22, 2008: Camden County Government's Employee Recognition Committee is pleased to announce that J.D. Strickland has been named our first "Employee of the Quarter". J.D. is a life long resident of Camden County and has been a loyal employee of the Public Works Department since 1979. Before he began his employment with Camden County Government, J.D. graduated from the Georgia Academy for the Blind in Macon in 1978. His commitment and dedication to the Public Works Department has played an important role in the growth and success of this organization.

J.D. has spent many dedicated years assisting the Public Works department by handing out tools, changing tires on heavy equipment, assisting mechanics, and fueling the equipment. He continues to dispatch personnel to complete work orders, maintains the radio equipment, answers phones, and fills in at the office while others are out.

Throughout the years, J.D. has increased his computer skills by learning the Jaws program to complete work orders. "J.D. is always ready to learn new skills on the computer," said his supervisor, Scott Brazell. "He is a 'can do' individual who does not let his handicap hold him back." J.D. shows extraordinary efforts and continuous excellence in service to the public, as well as an exceptional work ethic, which is an exemplary example of good morale in the workplace. "It was my pleasure to choose J.D. Strickland as Employee of the Quarter for the first quarter of this fiscal year. I am sure you will agree with me that he is an inspiration to all," said Steve L. Howard, County Administrator. The Board of County Commissioners acknowledges J.D. Strickland's dedication to service and expresses their appreciation for his dedication. - END -
