• VISION STATEMENT •

To develop a successful world class spaceport through a public-private partnership that establishes Camden County as the Commercial Space Center of the United States.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Spaceport Camden Project Lead Steve Howard Presented at Georgia Environmental Conference

WOODBINE, GEORGIA – August 26, 2016 – Spaceport Camden Project Leader and Camden County Administrator, Steve Howard, presented at the Georgia Environmental Conference on Jekyll Island, GA today. Howard served as a speaker in the Brownfields/Land Use track where he discussed the Spaceport Camden coastal redevelopment project, the FAA-led licensing and environmental impact review process and how existing spaceports serve in harmonious coexistence with designated conservation areas. The Georgia Environmental Conference, held on August 24th to 26th, is the state's largest environmental educational opportunity.

"It was an exciting opportunity to represent Spaceport Camden as a speaker at the Georgia Environmental Conference," said Mr. Howard. "The project will be beneficial to the entire region, and we will make every effort to ensure that space flight and nature can thrive together as they do in other places."

The Georgia Environmental Conference is attended by government officials, attorneys, educators, and other professionals from diverse backgrounds. The curriculum of the conference also offers over 50 different courses, which allows attendees to choose between nine breakout sessions that can be applied toward a Continuing Education program.
